ROYAL NAVY CHALLENGE RETURNS!

The Royal Navy Engineering Challenge for UTC students is back for 2020! The task for this year is Exercise River Rescue. Students will need to compete in teams to complete the following task:

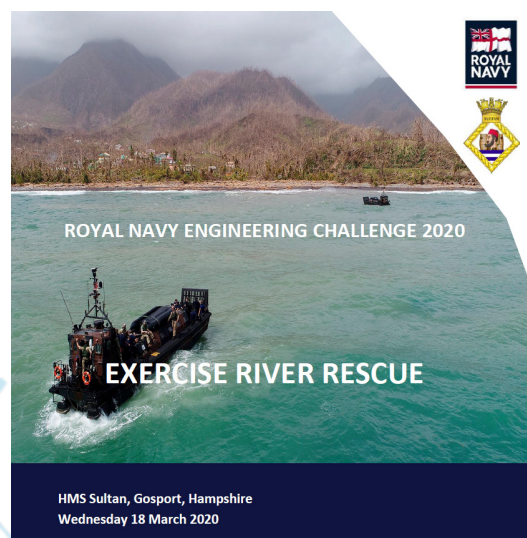

"HMS Bulwark is conducting a humanitarian operation in the Caribbean, where a hurricane has devastated a remote island. Your challenge is to design and build a remotely-operated vessel to deploy from the ship, navigate the river, deliver humanitarian aid to the local population and return to safety."

We are looking for groups of students to work in teams to take part in this challenge. The competition takes place from Wednesday 20th March 2020 at HMS Sultan, Gosport, Hampshire. Students will spend a number of days in Hampshire to compete in this unique opportunity. The Engineering Faculty will be leading on this exciting project. Please speak to Mr Hatherall if you are interested in taking part.

YEAR 13 TRIP TO MANCHESTER METROPOLITAN UNIVERSITY

Engineering BTEC students and a small number of year 11 attended a trip to MMU last Thursday (12/9/19) for non-metallic testing of materials. The testing involved students conducting tensile testing of a variety of different polymers to test their limits before fracture/breaking.

Students also had the opportunity to be taught by Dr Simmons regarding polymers and the environment, along with a visit to the 3D Printing Studio, Automotive Centre, Sports Engineering Department and Product Design Lab.

UTC SUPPORTS WARRINGTON BUSINESS EXCHANGE

On Thursday (19/9/19) we welcomed members of the Warrington Business Exchange to the UTC for a meeting of their members, including many of the Warrington local business community. Their event was themed around digital technology and how companies can benefit from expertise in the technology sectors. They chose the UTC as a venue thanks to its close partnerships with many of Warrington's business community, as well as the notable work that the UTC does in providing students interested in cyber, computing and technology with the skills and technical knowledge to succeed in any organisation.

A number of UTC students also took part in the event, as they networked with organisations and heard from a number of guest speakers, contextualising much of their computing courses with real life scenarios and operations. Jackie Emson, who leads the business exchange, said the UTC is a brilliant venue for local organisations seeking fresh talent: "UTC Warrington is an ideal venue and the college helps connect businesses with students. We heard from a number of guest speakers from different organisations working in the technology sector. The cyber students from the UTC also demonstrated how local businesses can benefit from working with a college that specialises in their key areas of work."
